Sustainability Development Journey

To preserve the Island's natural beauty, we promote eco-friendly leisure travel. As part of our commitment, we launched SANCTUARY, Shangri-La's Care for Nature Project, and joined Tourism Fiji's Loloma Hour campaign to inspire collective environmental action.

Loloma Hour is a sustainable tourism initiative in Fiji that encourages visitors to dedicate at least one hour of their stay to a meaningful environmental, cultural, or community activity. The program was launched by Tourism Fiji in April 2025 and is often described as a "happy hour for the environment".

The initiative's name is rooted in the Fijian word "loloma", which translates to acting with generosity and love, reflecting the deep care Fijians have for their land, ocean, and people.

Mangrove Planting

Group planting activities provide an engaging learning experience, raising awareness about the importance of coastal ecosystems and the role they play in protecting shorelines from erosion and storm surges.

Coral Planting

By supporting coral reef health, guests help protect biodiversity, prevent coastal erosion, and promote healthier marine environments, which benefit local communities and ecosystems.

Fish House Building

Engaging with aquatic life fosters a greater appreciation for marine ecosystems and environmental conservation, aligning with sustainability values.

Giving Back To The Community

At Shangri-la Yanuca Island, our group activities inspire a deeper sense of connection and respect for the local culture, as we share in the rich storytelling heritage of the village.
